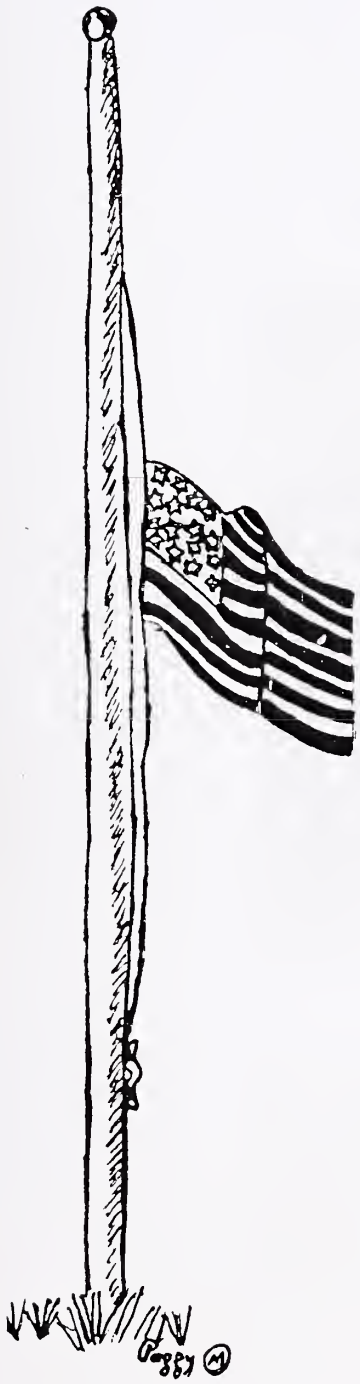
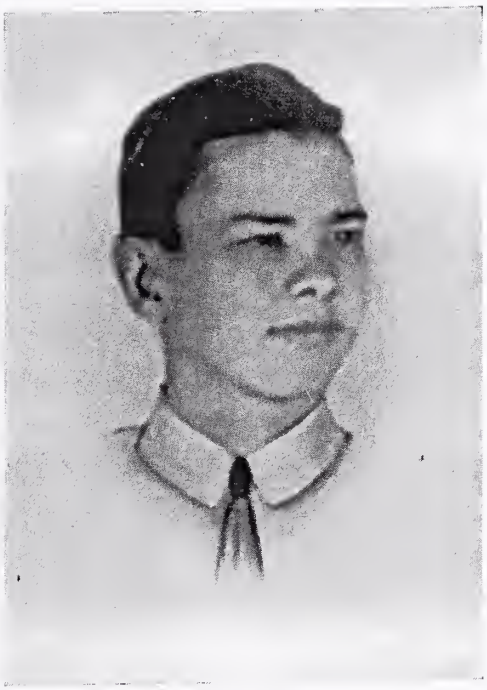
FOREWORD

We, the class of '45, present this annual to you to preserve the life and spirit of our past four years. When glancing through it in future years, we hope to bring back vivid scenes, faces, and events, the memory of which brings back pleasant thrills of our most precious moments.



In Loving Memory
Of
Neil Smith
Died In Our Junior
Year

DEDICATION



Neil Smith

We, the Senior Class, lovingly dedicate this annual to the memory of our fellow classmate, Neil Smith, who died in our Junior year. He took an active part in all sports and class activities. His memory will always be with each member of the class of '45.

SCHOOL SONG

When Sharon High comes marching down the line,
We're gonna fight, fight, fight and that's a sign,
We're gonna win, win, win, the victory,
And make our names go down in school history.

We're gonna fight, fight, fight for Sharon High,
And show them that we're just the kind o' crowd,
That will make our school be very proud, very proud,
Of Sharon High.

Events of today are forcing people to live abnormal lives. You boys and girls of Sharon are affected as are adults. In a way it is not fair to you—but is it fair to anybody? These are the kind of times that really test one's very soul. Under present day strains, stresses, and temptations we see what kind of stuff one is made of. It just has to show up.

Sharon can be proud of its boys and girls, of its mothers and fathers, of its teachers and friends. The occasion for which this item is written searches our hearts to see how we really feel toward each other and the world. After all, we do need each other—all people do everywhere—more than we sometimes think, and in the long run we shall show and express our appreciation. That's the kind of stuff of which Sharon people are made.

Class Poem

Here's a toast to our Senior Class,
To the class of '45,
Who into broader fields will pass,
And toward higher goals will strive.

Strive to hold our place in life,
That we have fought to gain,
By study, zeal, and arduous strife,
Which have not been in vain.

Strive to keep our spirits high,
Regardless of the odds we face,
Remindful of the years gone by,
For in our hearts, they have a place.

Strive to become good leaders all,
In following the examples that were set,
By our teachers who us enthralled;
The leaders we will ne'er forget.

So to the class that follows ours,
We wish to leave a guiding rule,
To honor, cherish, and uphold,
The high standards of our school.

MARY BULLARD
Class Poet

Senior Class History

In the fall of '41, forty-eight timid, wide-eyed freshmen entered Sharon to continue their studies. After the two factions from Woodlawn and Sharon Elementary Schools had time to get acquainted, the girls elected Louise Gift, president; Margaret Cook, vice-president; Bette Courtney, secretary; and Nell Wright, treasurer. The boys chose Mac Elliott for their president; Bill McGarity, vice-president, and Paul Cook, secretary and treasurer. The girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Walton, presented a play, "Men Not Allowed." The cast included Mary DeArmon, Louise Gift, Dorothy Godfrey, Margaret Cook, Marjoree Chapman and Emma Peoples. At the same time the boys presented "The Feed Store Mystery" under the leadership of Mr. Boyd, their home room teacher. Their play won first prize. Included in the cast were: Jim Coley, Bill Lutz, Bun Baker, Jack Price, Bill Houck, Mac Elliott, Robert Bell, Calvin Griffin, and Bill McGarity.

Our freshman year ended with a sigh of relief. When school started again in September, our places were filled with others that we could look upon as—"just freshmen." The boys and the girls were in the same home room this year with Mrs. Paschal as our home room teacher. Frances Shiver was elected president; Bill McGarity, vice-president; Louise Gift, secretary, and Paul Cook, treasurer.

When we returned for our junior year we elected Bun Baker, president; Jack Price, vice-president, Bette Courtney, secretary, and Carolyn Kiser, treasurer. The Beta Club tapped five of our classmates. They were as follows: Louise Gift, Marjoree Chapman, Emma Peoples, Charlie Kauffman, and Harry Newman. Soon after this we started planning our Junior-Senior banquet. In order to finance the banquet, we put on a magazine selling campaign. Everyone took part and work diligently for two weeks to boost it. Finally we went over the estimated goal. Then the great night came. The boys were dressed in tuxedos and the girls in evening dresses. The banquet was held at the Myers Park Club. Jack Paschal's orchestra rendered the music. The grand march was led by the officers of both classes. Gradeparents and teachers were invited. There was great excitement in our class when we received our rings. It was the first time at Sharon that the rings were received in the junior year. We had many parties during the year, which most of the class attended. The King and Queen of Sharon came from our class. They were Bun Baker and Nancy Smith. The marshalls were Marjoree Chapman, chief; Louise Gift, Emma Peoples, Carolyn Kiser, Harry Newman, and Bob Tathwell.

The first official action of the senior class was to elect Jack Price, president; Ann Kiser, vice-president; Bette Courtney, secretary, and Harry Newman, treasurer. Miss Paxton was again our home room teacher. This year the Beta Club tapped three new members from our class. These were Ann Kiser, Virginia Price, and Conard Caldwell. Ralph Mulford was chosen as editor of our annual and Charlie Kauffman as the assistant editor. A festival was given by the P.T.A. at Christmas and we all had a wonderful time.

With a sudden shock we realize that our high school days are over. Only a few more days separate us from the time when we shall have completed a definite era of our lives. We shall always look back on these years with pride and feel that this time spent at Sharon has given us a large part of the foundations upon which we shall build the rest of our lives.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of 1945 of Sharon High School, being of sound mind and judgment, make and declare this to be our last will and covenant, hereby revoking any and all such wills or covenants as may heretofore have been made.

ARTICLE I

To our faculty, we give our thanks for their co-operation and guidance so generously shown to us throughout our years at Sharon High School.

ARTICLE II (Bequests by Individuals)

1. Louise Gift wills her senior dignity to Nancy Culp.
2. Doris Hoesman wills her bashfulness to Hazeline Martin.
3. To anyone who can reach it, Louise Simmons wills her height.
4. I, Ralph Mulford, will my ability to draw to "Cotton" McGarity.
5. To anyone who can find him, Doris Bowman wills her dream man.
6. Doris McKinney wills her sweet disposition to Jeanette Nance.
7. Shirley Maine wills her quietness to all the tenth grade girls.
8. I, Harry Newman, will my good looking ties and collars to Bill Carter.
9. Mary DeArmon wills those attractive sweaters to Jeanette Black.
10. Nancy Smith leaves her giggles and long finger nails to Gene Rhyne.
11. Margaret Cook and Edith Thompson leave those good Sociology grades to anyone in the tenth grade who can use them.
12. I, Conard Caldwell, will my six feet to little Bobby Caldwell.
13. Bette Lou Courtney wills all those corny jokes told in fifth period English class to Martha Porter.
14. Mary Bullard bequests her ability to hold friends to Betty Wolfe.
15. Peggy McAllister wills her enchanting ways to Pat Palmer.
16. Charlie Kauffman leaves that political propaganda to the Senior Class of 1949.
17. Virginia Price leaves her good looks to any girl who needs some feminine charm.
18. Ann Kiser leaves her talking ability to Eleanor Bryant.
19. Carolyn Kiser leaves that beautiful red hair to Bulow Bowman.
20. Bun Baker wills his weakness for the fairer sex to Elwin Edwards.
21. Mary Louise Hyatt wills her ability to play basketball to Wilo-Dean Jackson.
22. Betty Deal leaves that quiet approach to Bulow Bowman.
23. Jo Brice leaves her Physics grades to some poor senior next year.
24. Jim Coley, finding himself with no more girls to charm, since he' sbeen getting around so rapidly this year, wills that glamour, that personality plus, that "oomph" to Buddy McCready, who doesn't need it.
25. Dorothy Godfrey wills her alluring eyes to Carolyn Green.
26. Mac Elliott leaves the 11th grade spelling to Buddy Kiser, in hopes that Buddy will be able to make better grades than he did!
27. Peggy Morrison wills her sweet smile to Don Allen.
28. Jack Price wills that athletic ability to Bobby Byrum.
29. Ruth Hucks wills her soft tone of voice to Mrs. Paschal's ninth grade boys.
30. Bonnie Roberts wills the popularity with the opposite sex to Jewel Hampton.
31. Nell Wright wills her ability to graduate to William Huskey.
32. Marjoree Chapman leaves her excess A's to Bill Templeton.
33. Emma Peoples leaves that "right hook" she has to some defenseless girls in the tenth grade.
34. Ann Lee wills her ability to play the piano to Herman Shepherd.
35. I, Bill Houck, will my ability to be at school on time to Johnny Mac Phillips.

BILL HOUCK, Lawyer,
Class of '45.

Prophecy

HOTEL CHARLOTTE,
Charlotte, N. C., June 1, 1955.

DEAR BUN:

You have no idea how Charlotte, and all our friends have changed since we left for Hollywood ten years ago. I wonder just where we would be now if we hadn't gone over in our first picture, "Lil Moron's Mistake." You were dumb, but I was hopeless. It was playing last Friday at the Broadway along with the stage show. I decided to see it again. I stepped up to the box office to see none other than Margaret Cook selling tickets. Speaking a few words, I stepped inside. Low and behold, who did I see but Bill Houck. He was dressed in a tuck and was blessing out an usher. Drawing him aside I asked if he was still head usher. "No," he replied indignantly. "I'm top man over the head usher." Bill had work to do so I went to the same front row seat, that in my younger days, I occupied every Friday night.

The stage show was just starting. Who should be the star but Mary DeArmon, "Tap Queen of the South." Immediately after the show I rushed around to the stage door to see Mary, and there I met Mac Elliott, Mary's booking agent. We all walked down to Walgreen's for a soda. We found Walgreen's under the supervision of Dot Godfrey. In the rear of the store, I thought I saw a familiar figure. She seemed to be looking for something. It was Doris McKinney still looking for lost bracelets.

Mr. James Macon Coley, Jr., was seated in a booth. Mary, Mac, and I sat down with him. I inquired about his brother Gene. Gene and Ann Coley are now running Diamond Point while Jim is busy doing what he learned to do best in school, loafing.

About this time Louise Simmons came in laughing her head off. She had been to see our picture at the Broadway, and remarked that we were as foolish as ever. She continued to laugh, so I left and strolled down to the library.

Doris Hoesman was checking out a book with Ruth Hucks, the librarian, while Shirley Maine and Nell Wright were catching up on their reading at one of the tables. After talking awhile I left the library and went over to Conard Caldwell's news-stand.

I picked up an edition of The Charlotte Observer, now edited by Charlie Kauffman, who got his start as editor of the "Eavesdropper," Sharon School paper.

Looking at the headlines, I read CAUSE OF DREAD DISEASE KOOROSUS DISCOVERED. Reading on I found that Dr. Harry Newman, and Miss Bonnie Roberts, the great woman scientist, after many years of research, found the cause of the spreading disease, Koorosus. It was a germ found under the tongue of a ball moth, cousin of the moth ball.

Turning to the society page, I found that Mary Pierce Bullard had finally decided to settle down, and marry Buddy McCready.

Looking into the next column, I saw that Doris Bowman was the writer of the Lonely Hearts section.

Reading on I found that Jo Brice, and Betty Deal had joined the WACS during World War II and decided to make it their life work.

Then I saw a picture of Miss Nancy Smith in one of those ultra-modern versions of a bathing suit. She had just been elected Miss North Carolina of 1955. In the sports section I read that Peggy McAllister and Sis Hyatt are the leading players on a new Mecklenburg County basketball team. It was organized by Miss Sara Paxton, and is called the County Sure Shot All Stars.

Bette Lou Courtney leads their cheering section.

After reading this good news I turned to the comic section to read the new cartoon. It is drawn by one of the first women cartoonists in the nation, Peggy Morrison. Peggy's cartoon, entitled "Sassy Sue, Girl Giggler," just goes to show you that women have been into everything since World War II.

Looking at the classified ad section I read an advertisement inserted in the paper by Ann Lee, Charlotte's great music teacher.

The ad under Ann's gave me an idea. It read: "Ball Game Tonight—Griffin Ball Park." After reading this, I gave Conard his paper back, and hailed a cab for the ball park.

Who should I see upon my arrival but Virginia Price, Carolyn Kiser, and Louise Gift waiting for a fly ball in order to see the ball game free.

I bought a ticket and went inside. Stepping over to the drink stand, I saw that it was run by Edith Thompson. She's still charging dimes for drinks.

Buying a score card, I found a seat beside two other old classmates, Emma Peoples, who is now teaching the seniors at dear old Sharon, and Marjoree Chapman who's running a beauty shop in the Wilder Building.

Looking on the score card, I saw that Jack Price was the Hornets' star pitcher. Jack left basketball for bowling, and bowling for baseball. Now he's on the ball with a quick lineup for the Washington Senators after this season.

Well, Bum, I'll be back in Hollywood in a few days, and I'll tell you all about everything.

Be seeing ya soon,

RALPH MULFORD,
Class Prophet of '45.

Salutatory

We, the members of the Class of 1945, salute you. We are going out this evening, leaving these familiar surroundings and associations, to take our places in a strange new world—a world torn by war and destruction. We advance forward to meet the needs of a suffering, starving, and sorrowing humanity.

And as we ascend the ladder of life, we know that somewhere there is a place for each of us. Also that there will always be work for us to do. So, we go out courageously to find our places, and to take up the work that awaits us.

With God's help we will ascend this ladder of life, and will look upward and not be afraid of what the future has to offer.

EMMA PEOPLES,
Salutatorian.*

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the time the annual went to press, Emma Peoples was Salutatorian. Whether this will be final, we will not know until the end of the year.

Valadictory

Tonight marks a great milestone in the lives of the members of the Senior Class of 1945. We have arrived at a long-hoped-for destination, that of beginning a new part of life. The future life will be a much harder one to live. The endeavors during our high school year will be reflected in our new life.

As we reach this point in our lives we suddenly discover that the senior year which we looked forward to so much is at an end. We have regrets of leaving our dear school, but we find ourselves headed toward a higher goal.

The world calls each of us. Where to, we know not. Many of our classmates will soon be serving our country, and others will be doing smaller things that are equally important to our life structure. With the millions of other people our age we will work hard, hoping to emerge in a few years into a world of human tranquility and mutual co-operation among nations.

We must remember and practice the high ideals which we have been taught, and teach them to the world around us in the way of equality which is engulfing the world in a second great reformation. We must be strong and loyal to ourselves, our country, and our God.

Thus with these simple convictions with education to carry out its ideals, we bid farewell to the school we have loved so well. Nevertheless we will carry in our hearts and souls a part of Sharon High School. Yes, tonight is truly the beginning and the end. The end is over. At the beginning there is a fork in the road of life. We can take the old road and continue war and privation. We can take the new road and head straight for a new world of peace among nations and firm economic and political structure. Starting tonight, we make our decision, and may it be the only one worthwhile in our fast advancing civilization.

MARJOREE CHAPMAN,
Valedictorian.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

In 1943, as happy freshmen, we entered high school at long last with Mrs. Paschal as our home room teacher. To start the year we elected class officers with Carl Lippard as president; Betty Wolfe, vice-president; Gene Rhyne, secretary and treasurer.

Our first attempt to enter society by giving a formal party was a failure much to our dismay. Even this could not keep us from enjoying our first year as high school students.

Returning to school in the fall of '44 we found that our home room teacher was Mrs. Denton, a new faculty member. The picking of class officers was accomplished by electing David McGinnis as president; Lloyd McCready, vice-president; Eleanor Bryant, secretary, and Betty Wolfe, treasurer.

At Thanksgiving Mrs. Denton resigned and a new teacher, Mrs. Brown took her place. She did wonderful work toward getting money for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Furnishing the Seniors with a banquet was our main task of the year. We did this by selling magazine subscriptions, scrap, giving a boxing match, and sponsoring a play. The banquet turned out to be a success and everyone was satisfied.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

In the eighth grade we were rather a twixt-between class. Our upper classmen treated us as children and the grammar grades thought of us as too old. Our classes were divided but we stood united. The ninth grade was our first year of high school. It was a wonderful feeling. At first we were still treated rather childishly, but we are proud we have grown up. We elected Pat Palmer as president; Burnette Lockwood, vice-president; Jeanette Black, secretary, and Betty Lowder, treasurer. The boys sponsored a skating party at the Queen City Skating Rink for all high school students. We all had a grand time. Now we have completed another year and can look forward to becoming sophomores.

CLUBS

BETA CLUB

The National Beta Club is a non-secret, achievement-service organization for students of senior high schools. Its purpose is the promotion of honesty, service, and leadership among its members.

We have progressed splendidly under the leadership of our sponsor, Miss Gaddy. We sponsored the King and Queen contest and used the money to have the school's movie projector repaired.

Our aims for the year are to promote honesty, help the school and ourselves. We believe we have been successful in living up to these aims during this year.

MONOGRAM

To be eligible for the Monogram Club a person must have a letter earned in playing basketball, managing a team, or cheerleading. The purpose of the club is to develop a love of sports and promote a better ball team. This year's club is the first to be organized at Sharon. With the aid of Mr. Whitley, our sponsor, we hope to fulfill our purpose.

The Journalism Club of Sharon School was organized in the fall of 1944 under the guidance of Mrs. Graham W. Denton. Twenty-nine members joined the club. When Mrs. Denton resigned at Thanksgiving, Mrs. Robert Brown became our sponsor. It has been mainly through their efforts that we have been successful in our journalistic interests.

The purpose of our club is to promote journalistic knowledge in the school and to present information to the students in an intelligent manner.

From the response and co-operation of the faculty and students and the knowledge and enjoyment gained by our members, we believe we have succeeded in our purpose.

DRAMATICS

The main purpose of this club is to study drama and be able to perform in public appearances. With our sponsor, Mrs. Brown, we have accomplished much. Programs of dramatic interest are given at the regular meetings every two weeks.

Our outstanding feature of the year was the one-act play, "Business Is Business". It was presented in an assembly program. The club entertained, also, at the April meeting of the Parent-Teacher's Association with a one-act play entitled, "Billy's First Date".

The members of the club have co-operated willingly and efficiently with the director in every way.

HOME EC.

"To participate actively in improving personal, home, and family living; and to participate in co-operative planning and group action" has been our main goal this year. Although the club is composed of only thirteen members, we have left no stone unturned in our effort to make a success. Already we have affiliated with the state and national organizations, which means pooling resources, thus making it possible to accomplish larger and more significant things.

Our hopes of being of service to others have been shown through the selection and work done on the school project, through Red Cross Work, and the Russian War Relief Work. We of the Home Economics Club are proud to aid our country by placing at its disposal all available resources that we can.

4-H CLUB

The purpose of the 4-H Club is to promote our heads to clearer thinking, our hearts to greater loyalty, our hands to larger service, and our health to better living for our club, our community, and our country. The club motto is "To make the best better." The Sharon Club sponsored the March of Dimes drive and raised $135.12.

EAVESDROPPER

The EAVESDROPPER, bi-monthly newspaper of Sharon School, is the result of the effort of the Journalism Club. In this paper it has been our aim to report clearly and precisely the activities of the community, the school, and the members of the faculty and the student body in a manner which would hold the interest and appreciation of the readers.

Since the paper has a high circulation and the school treats the paper as theirs with thanks for the work done on it, we have achieved our goal of satisfying the school readers. To be truthful, we have printed everything worth printing and still everyone looks forward to the next edition.

Because at the beginning of the year we were penniless, and we now have a large surplus, the EAVESDROPPER may continue to be a part of Sharon.
